

BUILDING CONTEMPLATIVE COMMUNITY

A Weekend Retreat for Spiritual Directors

August 20-23, 2009

Renew your ability to be a spiritual presence to others.

Build contemplative community with other spiritual directors.

Discover the wisdom of the mystics expressed in ancient Celtic wisdom.

The retreat is directed toward anyone who currently ministers as a spiritual director and would like to gather with those who have completed the Spiritual Directors Institute that has been offered at Mount Saint Joseph Conference and Retreat Center since 2004. All faith backgrounds are welcome.

The retreat includes:

- Professional sharing among colleagues
- Explore Celtic meditations
- Right-brained activities
- Personal reflection and contemplation
- A rhythm of community worship and sharing

Sr. Evelyn Craig, IHM
Facilitator

John O'Donohue, who grew up in County Clare, Ireland, was a Catholic scholar with a doctorate in philosophical theology, a poet, and the author of Anam Cara (Soul Friend). He wrote that, "The Celtic imagination loves the circle and the spiral - abhors the straight line... (it) loves the circular movement of life in rhythm with the seasons and all that is mystery."

Celtic Meditations on the Irish Spirit Wheel
